

This decision will just further reduce honest "fair use" of broadcasts. It spawn an explosion of black market hardware and software.

At best this simply stop the casual "pirate", which I doubt is the big problem here. With high speed internet in the home only one "savy" private need exist.